CINDY SUNDHOLM, THE PROUD OWNER OF THE SAME DOUGHBOY SWIMMING POOL SINCE 1985, IS ONE GREAT EXAMPLE OF WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE TO BE AN UNBELIEVABLY HAPPY DOUGHBOY OWNER.

BEGINNING OF A LASTING LEGACY

Drawn by the reputation of Doughboy Pools and influenced by a friend's recommendation, Cindy chose the brand that would become an integral part of her life when she decided to purchase a backyard pool. Cindy's family brought home their Doughboy above-ground swimming pool in 1985 when her son was just three months old.

DIY installing their pool was a family project. Even their infant was part of the action, safely stationed nearby in his bassinet. Today, he's grown with three children of his own, and the same Doughboy pool is still going strong in Cindy's backyard nearly four decades later and counting!

A POOL BUILT TO LAST

Since 1985, Cindy's family has traded in the original ladder for one that attaches to their new deck. They're on their third filter and they've repaired the skimmer. But the pool itself – the walls, railings, and even the pool liner – are all the ones they installed in 1985.

Cindy credits both the durability of her Doughboy pool and the care she's given it over the years as the reasons her pool is still there providing backyard fun for the whole family today. And she's right! If you take care of your Doughboy pool, it will take care of you. Cindy has been careful to keep the water balanced, the debris vacuumed up, and the equipment operating correctly. And that has allowed her liner and other pool components to keep going strong.

MAKING MEMORIES THAT SPAN GENERATIONS

Cindy's above-ground swimming pool has been the center of entertainment for their family and friends for decades. In the 80s and 90s, her kids and their friends spent their summer days splashing, playing, and laughing in the pool. She and her girlfriends enjoyed many moms-only nights swimming, relaxing, and connecting.

When her children were young, she ran a daycare in her home, and she taught each of the children to swim – kids who are now grown up with babies of their own.

From pool parties to barbeques to quiet afternoons, Cindy's Doughboy pool has provided endless fun and joy over the years. Her family found that having their pool meant they always had the perfect getaway right at home. Instead of heading down to the nearby lake to swim, they've far preferred their pristine backyard swimming pool. And when a summer vacation was out of budget, they always loved their STAYcation at home with their Doughboy pool.

ABOUT HER POOL, CINDY SAYS

"I don't want to lose this one. That's the nice part of summer; getting in our pool. We've done a lot of fun stuff in that pool. I'm actually planning on having a 4th of July party this year."

HEALTH AND WELLNESS IN THEIR POOL

Not only has their Doughboy pool brought fun and relaxation to Cindy's family, but it has also contributed to their overall health and well-being.

First, swimming is a powerful exercise that offers incredible benefits for your whole body. Did you know it counts as both cardio and strength training!?

Also, the buoyancy of the water means that everything you do in it is low impact on your joints. The water supports your weight, allowing you to painlessly do things you might have an issue with on land. So you can jog or do jumping jacks with no knee pain and walk, swim, or exercise with no impact on your joints.

Their pool also allowed them to do hydrotherapy right in their backyard! Cindy used it to rehab after knee surgery, and her husband plans to use it to speed up his recovery after an upcoming surgery too.

AS CINDY SAYS

“It’s been really good. I had both my knees replaced, and I did rehab in the pool. I have dumbbells, noodles, and I work out. It’s really helpful healthwise.”

UNMATCHED DURABILITY

Cindy's experience with her Doughboy pool stands as a testament to its exceptional durability. Cindy lives in Wisconsin where pools have to withstand a harsh winter and a steady snow load year after year. Over the decades, Cindy's pool has gone through many winters with no problems.

There used to be many pools in the neighborhood, but one by one, they've fallen apart over the years. As Cindy says, "I've seen other people in the neighborhood. Their pools have collapsed in the winter. A friend of mine, her pool went down last year, and it wasn't that old."

But about her own Doughboy pool, Cindy says,

"It's outlived every other pool on my block."

Even when a large branch fell off her neighbor's tree and hit Cindy's pool and deck, her Doughboy pool stood strong. A section of the deck had to be replaced, but the durable Doughboy pool was unmoved and undamaged.

THE POWER OF DOUGHBOY POOLS

Cindy's story is just one example of countless families who have experienced the magic of Doughboy pools. Our pools have proven to be a gateway to lasting memories, bringing loved ones together and offering solace in challenging times.
